Antioch at Wauconda, Mooseheart Here Sat.; Batavia Wins Tourney

Large Crowd Sees Guests Win From Sequoits 47-39; Grant Loses 2

Antioch High's basketball team will resume conference play Friday in a trek to Wauconda where it will meet the Bulldogs for the first time this season.

Big problem for the Sequoits will be to stop Dennis Freund, Wauconda scoring ace, who is one of the top point-makers in Lake county. As goes Freund, so go the Bulldogs. Mooseheart will play here Saturday night.

The Sequoits have great respect for Batavia, which after humbling Grant High 66 to 44 at Batavia Friday night in the first round of four-team tournament came to Antioch Saturday night and won from the local team 47 to 39.

Antioch won the right to play Batavia in the final game here by winning from Mooseheart at Batavia 68 to 46. This team will come here Saturday evening for a return game with the Sequoits and this time a harder fought battle is expected.

The Mooseheart team is not a weak one as the large crowd saw Saturday night when it defeated Grant in the consolation preliminary 63 to 59. Grant has won from Antioch this season, and is a top team in the Northwest Suburban Conference.

It was from the free throw line that Batavia won from Antioch in the tournament final Saturday. The Sequoits outscored their opponents from the field but fouled heavily, giving Batavia opportunity to pitch 15 free throws of 22 attempts. Antioch made five of her 10 attempts. The Sequoits started out strong and closed the quarter 12 to 7. By the mid-time the visitors evened the score 20-all. Harris, the Batavia forward started swishing the nets, and the guests were soon out in front.

Warning on Parking

Police Chief Walter I. Scott has issued a warning to car owners that the ordinance prohibiting all-night parking from Nov. 15 to April 1 will be enforced. This ordinance says it is unlawful for the owner or operator of any vehicle to park said vehicle on any street in the village after midnight and before 7 a. m. during the winter months. The reason for this law is to give street employees opportunity to remove snow unhindered. The ordinance also applies at any time after snow begins to fall for a period of eight hours after the snow stops falling. Violation of this ordinance carries a fine of from $5 to $200.

High School Board To Ask Third Time For Tax Increase

The Antioch Township High School Board of Education, at a meeting Wednesday evening, decided to go ahead with a request for a 15c increase in the educational tax fund. This will be the third request for the increase.

Mr. Bruce Trester, Executive Secretary for the Lake County Civic League, and the board discussed the problem but couldn't agree on a decision concerning the state multiplier, a figure set up by the state to equalize property taxes. If the multiplier is increased the school district will automatically get an increase in revenue. It is not known at the present time if there will be an increase and there is a possibility that there could be a decrease in the multiplier.

Tickets already are on sale and the Lions expect to make the event outstanding.

The Chamber of Commerce is planning to adjourn its annual banquet for the entertainment the Lions dance will provide.

The Lions will complete their plans for the dance Monday evening at the annual dinner meeting to be held at 7:15 p. m. at Smart's Country House. The dinner will be a smorgasbord.

High School Seniors Form Loan Association As a Means of Learning Banking Practices

Antioch High School seniors who have been taking part in the banking lecture series each week have formed a loan association.

The organization was first formed to show the students some of the basic operations of a loan department of a commercial bank. The association is governed by a seven member board which was elected by the senior class. The duties of this board are to set basic operating policy, consider loan applications, and report financial progress of the association to the lecture group.

The beginning finances necessary for the association to start were loaned to the seniors by the businessmen sponsoring the lecture series. This capital investment will be returned to the businessmen at the end of the lecture series. In the meantime the loan association is accepting and approving small loans for the students. The board approved loans totaling $4125. The students may borrow up to $10, and can keep the loan for a maximum of six weeks. Interest rates set up by the board were 1% per week for all loans over $5, and 2% per week on loans less than $5, with a 10 cents minimum charge. This means that a student may borrow $10 for a period of six weeks for 60 cents. The most common reasons given by those students that have borrowed thus far were: to attend Christmas dance, to Christmas shop, and to buy clothing.

The purpose of the loan association was not to provide loans to students primarily, but rather its purpose was to create a situation for learning. The businessmen have used the association's operation to illustrate the parallel between the working of the association board of directors and that of a bank board of directors. The Consumer Economics class had the experience of drawing up an application form to be used by the students in applying for loans. This class, also, designed the notices to be sent to the borrowers when their loans are due.

The bookkeeping class decided what type of books and accounts should be used in recording the transactions of this loan association. The funds are kept in the bank thus the students have the experience of opening a bank account, writing checks, making deposits, and reconciling the bank statement.

The student board is made up of the following seniors: Board president—Frank Ferdon; Board secretary—Cathy Arndt; Board bookkeeper—Judy Zelbor; Bill Hart, David Mitchell, Karen Rentner, and Bob Wertz. The board is under the direction of Mr. Lear of the Business Education department and Businessmen William E. Brook and Atty. Ted Larson.

Clarence Pyles, 43, of Oak Lane Dr., Antioch, was seriously injured early Wednesday in a crash of his automobile on Rte. 45 west of Rte. 21 west of Half Day.

He was taken to Condell Memorial hospital suffering from broken left ribs and cuts on his face and hands.

Sheriff's deputies Clair Ianson and Roman Lenzen reported that Pyles' car struck a patch of ice and skidded off the highway, turned over several times, left the ground for a distance of 36 feet and rammed into a tree.

Pyles was pinned inside his car and was pulled from the demolished vehicle by Floyd Hunt, 113 E. Grand Ave., Fox Lake, and Michael Sidjlo, 708 Cedarwood road, Round Lake. The deputies said there were 253 feet of skid marks in the snow and ice.

Firemen Will Get Radio Alarm Sets For Fire Alarms

$6,000 System to Operate From Telephone Answering Service

Village trustees Tuesday evening voted an expenditure of $1,500 on a $6,000 project of the Antioch Volunteer fire department to provide home radio alarm equipment for 25 of the Antioch firemen.

This amount will be matched by the fire district outside of Antioch, making a total of $3,000, which in turn will be matched by the Fire Department to make the grand total of $6,000.

Chief Edgar Simonsen told the trustees that the firemen hope to add 10 more sets later so that all members of the department will have equipment.

Simonsen explained that the system calls for a master radio control set costing $870 which will be placed at the Telephone Answering Service, 510 Lake street. A receiving set costing $197 will be placed in the home of each fireman.

When an alarm comes in, the person at the Answering Service will broadcast a signal that will turn on an alarm in each set. Then she will give the location of the fire.

At the same time she will operate a large siren at the fire station.

The radio alarm system, Simonsen explained, is to supplement the siren alarm. During the winter when doors and windows are closed tightly and if the wind is in the wrong direction it is impossible to hear the large siren.

Sets Are Portable
The individual sets are portable and should a fireman go to the home of another person he can plug the set in an electric socket there and be all set for the emergency call, Simonsen said.

The sets may be adjusted to receive police calls which are on a different wave band.

The fire chief said that he hopes through this private alarm system, use of the large siren can be dispensed with between midnight and 7 a. m. This alarm disturbs the sleep of many people.

Just when the new system will be installed Simonsen could not say, but he expects to have it ready by early spring.

The village trustees said that since no appropriation was made for this purchase this year, the $1,500 would exceed the emergency fund, but that by the time the radios were installed a new fiscal year will have started and the total amount will be available.

Fire Chief Simonsen reports that during December there were five fire calls. Two were grass fires, one a car fire, one a gas furnace fire (continued on page 7)

Weather Hazard

In January 1957, the Illinois traffic accident total jumped nearly 50 per cent above the average of accidents per month in the preceding year. Going into January of 1958, this is a fact for more motorists to know so that they can adjust their actions accordingly.

"Traffic Disease" can only be cured by the general public with each individual driving a car or crossing a street.

Hence, one of the most effective weapons to use in combating the traffic enemy of human life is public education—that is, the constant indoctrination of each and every person with a sense of personal responsibility for his own safety and the safety of others. Without this individual program of safe practices and concern for the other fellow's safety, lives are going to be lost to traffic accidents at the present or a greater rate.

The winter season, with its constant round of rain, snow, sleet and ice, has always increased traffic hazards. icy, slick roads and streets, poor visibility, difficult traction, freezing, and the heavy wear and tear on motor vehicles caused by inclement weather conditions.

Thus, to the constant problems inherent in the traffic picture every day of the year, are added the extra hazards of winter driving and walking. The driver and the pedestrian alike must increase his alertness to these dangers and adapt his driving and walking practices—"winterize" them—in order to cope with traffic in the bad-weather months.

Nothing can protect a man so much as himself—by sound and sensible driving and walking habits. Given this, half the battle against traffic hazards is won.

Battle Against Inflation

"One of the ways we are supposed to raise our standard of living is through increased production and less costly distribution," says the Columbia, Mo., Daily Tribune. "New machines and new methods are supposed to make more consumer goods available per man hour of labor."

Then the Tribune deals with a recent strike against food chains conducted by Kansas City butchers. The demands made, it observes, were "... brand new in the nation's meat industry." "Nowadays, meat is generally sold in a pre-packaged state and much of it is sold by the pound, rather than by the cut, as it used to be. What they want from self-service displays. This is a highly efficient method of selling and, to quote the Tribune again, "Granting that there is free competition—and certainly the food chains are competitive—more economical methods in handling meat should bring lower prices for the consumers, which in turn should bring better demand."

However, the butchers demanded both a raise and less work—on the grounds that their productivity had increased as against the old system of cutting meat at the customer's order. In other words, as the Tribune explains it, the strikers wanted to refuse to permit the merchant or the public to take advantage of efficiencies developing in the industry.

This strike was settled in five days. The union did not get any production or productivity limitation clauses in the new contract. However, comparable situations will rise again, both in retailing and in other enterprise. And the big point at issue is well covered by the Tribune in the concluding words to its editorial: "... if we are to be denied an opportunity to make use of more efficient and more economical methods of production and distribution, then we shall find our battle with inflation growing more bitter and more fruitless, and our attempts to improve the standard of living for all less and less successful."

Instrument of Tyranny

The world has changed immeasurably since Calvin Coolidge was president. But something he said—and restated in different words on occasion after occasion—has a far greater significance now than it had then.

Mr. Coolidge said: "A government which lays taxes on the people not required by urgent public necessity and sound public policy is not a protector of liberty, but an instrument of tyranny." One of the first signs of the breaking down of free government is a disregard by the taxing powers of the right of the people to their own property.

The taxes which "urgent public necessity" plainly require and will continue to require are enormous. That can't be helped. What can be helped is the imposition of taxes for purposes which are not urgent, are not necessary, or which can be accomplished by agencies other than the federal government.

Skin Diving in 1850

Skin diving, with the aid of aqualungs and other special equipment, has become a popular sport in this country in the postwar era. It even has its magazines and literature. But it isn't nearly as new an art as most of us think.

More than a century ago some 200 skin diving miners worked coal seams in the bed of an Alabama river. In 1850, an observer wrote: "At the mouth of Village Creek ... I witnessed here the novel process in the art of mining, namely, diving for coal. A flatboat is moored parallel with the joints, and near the edge of the coal-long wedge-shaped crow-bars are driven into the seams by means of mauls maneuvered by the men in the boat. When a ledge of about two feet is loosened in this way across the seam, the men take to the water and dive two or three together ... and lift the coal bodily to the surface and place it in the boat." An improved method consisted of slipping chains around the loosened blocks of coal and hoisting them with cranes. Some lumps weighed as much as 1,000 pounds.

The miners in Alabama and the other coal producing states still work below the surface—but not underwater. And their predecessors of a century ago would hardly be able to believe their eyes if they saw the complex mechanical tools and processes that have given each miner far greater productive power with far less effort—and so have made possible his high wages and other benefits.

Faster and Faster

The United States government can print dollar bills on recently installed new presses nearly four times as fast as on the old machines. One wonders, in this age of inflation, how long it may be before even these remarkable machines become obsolete.

"No Financial Elite"

Today more than 8,500,000 Americans—one out of every 12 adults—are shareholders in our corporations, and their ranks continue to grow steadily. So a very apt question is: What kind of people make up this big and expanding group?

President Keith Funston of the New York Stock exchange gives a three-phased answer to that question, and here's the substance of it.

First, shareholders do not constitute "... a financial elite." They come from every walk of life, every geographic area, and every income level. The majority of them are in the middle and lower income groups—and the largest single entry consists of housewives.

Second, they are a reservoir of financial capital (that is, savings) which is capable of supplying many of the billions of new dollars needed to finance sound economic growth both in this country and in other friendly countries.

Third, all these people are voluntarily investing for the long term in companies they believe in. Therefore, to quote Mr. Funston directly: "They are, perhaps without articulating it, free enterprisers in the most literal sense. ... they are also moved by the conviction that if the key to progress is more and better plants, producing more and better goods, then the money to build those plants comes best from free individuals."

The significance of widespread share ownership has been captured in a striking and felicitous phrase—People's Capitalism.

Farm Landlords May Now Qualify for Social Security

Farm landlords over the age of 65 have started filing claims for their social security benefits, according to Bernard Barnett, manager of the local social security district office. The number of such claims will reach a peak early in 1958, after farmers have filed their 1957 tax returns, he declares.

The law which covered self-employed farmers beginning with 1955, did not provide coverage for any landlord receiving rental income from his farm land, according to Mr. Barnett. This meant that many landlords whose sole business was farming and who actually took part in the farming operations were denied the protection of the Social Security Act. To remedy this, Congress in 1956, changed the law so that a landlord who by arrangement with the tenant or share-farmer takes part in producing a crop and whose activities significantly affect the amount of the crop, will have his net income from this activity credited to his social security account.

This means that the farm landlord over the age of 65 who has been helping his tenant in the production of a crop by helping with the work, contributing machinery or money and actively managing some of the operations, during 1956 and 1957, may be qualified for a social security benefit.

The social security office at 1515 Washington st., Waukegan, has leaflets and booklets explaining in more detail what things are taken into consideration in determining whether the landlord's activities constitute material participation. If the landlord meets the requirements, then it is necessary that he file a Schedule F income from this farming activity. The Self-Employed farmer or farm landowner must submit the following documents when he files his claim for benefits: Proof of age, Tax Return Form 1040, Farm Return Form Schedule F, receipt or cancelled check showing the tax was paid.

Now Available - '58 Edition of the 'Farmers' Tax Guide'

The 1958 edition of the Farmers' Tax Guide is now available, cost-free from the Internal Revenue Service and county agents of the Department of Agriculture, District Director H. Alan Long announced.

The 64 page booklet has been brought up to date by the National Office and includes many features of interest to farmers. In preparing the booklet the Revenue Service had the advice, assistance and co-operation of revenue agents in farm areas and the Federal extension services of the Federal land grant colleges.

A million copies of the booklet have been printed for nationwide distribution. Of these, 750,000 will be distributed by county agents and the remaining 250,000 will be obtainable from offices of the Revenue Service, Mr. Long said. He pointed out that previous publications of this character had been highly commended by farmers and numerous farm organizations including the National Grange, The American Farm Bureau Federation, the Farmers' Union and the National Livestock Tax Committee.

Numerous examples of how to prepare portions of a farm return are included in the guide, which also treats with such important farm tax subjects as farm inventories, depreciation, capital gains and losses, casualty losses and thefts, trades, condemnations and diseased livestock, and soil and water conservation.

Social Maladjustment and Misbehaviour in Childhood

Are you like putty in the hands of your child? This could lead to his becoming impulsive, undisciplined and inconsiderate.

A possible chain-like reaction could start with the "modern" parental rationalization that "I do not want my child to be inhibited." This leads to over-permissiveness by the parent, encourages the child to reject or ignore authority, and finally results in his social maladjustment and misbehaviour.

A dominant but understanding parent helping his child over early developmental hurdles can prevent this chain reaction.

This was the general theme of a talk recently at the North Shore Hospital, Winnetka, by Dr. Harry M. Segenreich of the professional faculty in psychiatry, University of Illinois. Fourth in a series devoted to "Emotional Problems of Childhood," the talk focused upon "Management of Problems of Social Maladjustment and Misbehaviour in Childhood."

Dr. Segenreich defined maladjustment and misbehaviour as "that form of response or attitude which is inconsistent with the social and cultural standards of the environment and inappropriate for the given age. He said "gradual development and channeling of the instinct drives compounded with external pressures dictated the behaviour of the child."

He explained that the Oedipal period—from 6 years of age for several years—was the most difficult. The child may develop a conflict here with the parent of the same sex while being attracted to the parent of the opposite sex, he said, adding: "Difficulty with the Oedipal complex can lead to emotional or social maladjustments. A healthy solution: The child gives up parents of the opposite sex as objects of his drives and seeks substitute objects and other interests to utilize his energy."

"During this period, it is normal for the child to want to compete with or imitate the parent of the same sex."

"Parental guidance is exceedingly important in this difficult period. If the child is deprived, rejected, neglected or inadequately trained, his insecurity is increased. There may be feelings of danger to himself and of injury, as well as of inferiority or inadequacy. Also—exaggerated rage, stubbornness, dependent longing or greed."

Dr. Segenreich emphasized that "Children bring little pre-determined behaviour into this world. A child best learns the social role of behaviour by imitation and identification within an atmosphere of love and security. . . . In this, the family, school, church, colleagues, idols and institutions greatly influence his thinking and behaviour."

The psychiatrist pointed out that too many parents were concerned with trying to make "Mary stop sucking her thumb" or "Jack stop lying" without probing into and rooting out the underlying cause. Several examples given were:

DISOBEDIENCE—Usually stems from lack of firmness or consistency by parents. Parent identifies child with his own childhood, then treats him as he would like to have been treated—even though this may be most improper.

STEALING—Usually results from a need for attention and interest . . . to obtain gratification for oneself . . . This act demands parental displeasure and firm insistence that it will not be tolerated.

NIGHTMARES—Common to 6-8 year olds. Indicates a struggle within and fear of unconscious wishes often dealing with oedipal conflict. Requires parental understanding and tolerance.

RUNNING AWAY FROM HOME—Often child testing parents. Child feels rejected or unwanted. Parents should not increase but diminish this feeling of "unwantedness."

FACE-SAVING—Don't reprimand a young child in public. Shaming him into acting in a particular manner only causes other difficulties and does not accomplish elimination of the conflict. . . . Constructive way: present an ideal pattern of behaviour for child to follow.

SCHOOL PHOBIA—Usually caused by anxieties in child. . . . Only aggravated by hostile attitude of parents. Best to be patient, assist child to return and monitor his attendance.

Dr. Segenreich concluded: A child's behaviour is a product of psychological factors and environmental influences. . . . Ethnic, social, cultural, economic determinants, as well as chance, will influence behavioural patterns.

Since misbehaviour is an indication of difficulty in finding adequate gratification of one's drives, it requires early attention. . . . Failure to correct these problems may lead to future difficulties when the individual attempts to satisfy more complex problems in later life. . . . He may suffer alone or inflict irremedial damage to society."

Jewel's Stock Balancing Sale

THIS IS THE ONLY WEEK OF THE YEAR that each of the 188 Jewel Stores is having a sale of its own. In addition to the values you'll find on these pages, your Jewel manager is balancing his stock by clearing out the "extras" at special sell-out prices. That means that each Manager is having his own sale . . . extra values we can't advertise because they're not the same in every store. If you have two or three Jewel Stores near your home, why not take advantage of the different values in each. Remember, there won't be another sale like this until 1959!

Miss Judith Schnurr Becomes Bride of Geo. E. Hildebrandt

Miss Judith Schnurr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Schnurr of Wilmet, Wisconsin, became the bride of George Ernest Hildebrandt, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hildebrandt of Twin Lakes, Wisconsin, at 7 p. m. December 27 at Peace Lutheran church at Wilmet. The Rev. R. P. Otto officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose for her wedding a floor length gown of white taffeta with chapel sweep, a fitted bodice, long tapered sleeves, beaded alencon lace applique trimmed the sweetheart neckline. Her veil, of imported silk illusion, was held by a small pearl-encrusted alencon lace cap. She carried a bouquet of Amazon lilies and stephanotis.

Mrs. Joan Simes, sister of the bride, serving as matron of honor wore a gown of gold brocaded silk with back drape effect. She wore a crown of white flowers and gold berries. Her flowers were yellow roses and carnations.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Jean Krueger, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Phyllis Schnurr, sister-in-law of the bride, Miss Shirley Milbrath, and Mary Lynn Fairbanks. The bride's attendants wore gowns of gold dotted white chiffon over taffeta. They carried yellow roses and carnations.

Jane Schnurr, niece of the bride served as flower girl. She wore white chiffon over gold taffeta.

Clayton Jackson of Monroe, Wis., was the bridegroom's best man. Earle Hennessy, John Schnurr, Bill Schnurr and Lew Dahmen were ushers and Lt. Robert Krueger of Texas, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, served as groomsmen.

A reception following the ceremony was held at the bride's home.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hildebrandt are graduates of Whitewater college. Mrs. Hildebrandt is teaching school at West Allis, Wis., and Mr. Hildebrandt is serving in the U. S. Army stationed in Virginia.

Gene Prange, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Prange of Loon Lake road, left Jan. 4 to return to Missoula, Montana, where he is attending the state university. He spent the Christmas holidays at home with his parents and brother, Richard, and sister, Sharon.

Glatthaar-Tiffany Nuptials Said on Sunday

On Sunday, December 22, at 2:30 p. m. in a double ring service at the First Methodist church, Geneseo, Ill., marriage vows were exchanged by Miss Linda Glatthaar and Peter Tiffany, both of Geneseo.

The Rev. Dr. Harold Sortor, pastor, performed the ceremony before an altar decorated with red carnations backed with pine.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Glatthaar and the groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Tiffany. The Tiffanys are former residents of Antioch.

Handclipped rosepoint lace and nylon tulle over bridal satin formed the gown worn by the bride. The molded bodice had a portrait neckline and long wristpoint sleeves. A tunic of ruffles accented the bouffant floorlength skirt. Her finger, tip veil of pure silk illusion was held in place by a pill box, decorated with seed pearls. She carried a colonial arrangement of red roses.

Chemistry Demonstration, Play at Antioch High Attracted Some Parents

Parents of Antioch High School students who failed to attend the meeting provided for them Tuesday evening at the school auditorium, missed some good entertainment and a worthwhile program.

Students of Elroy Robinson gave a demonstration of the new method of chemistry teaching which is gaining wide attention. The students who participated were Robert Doyle, Alan Moorman, William Jarvis, Faye Mann, and Carolyn Stoffel. Robinson explained the steps of the procedure.

The demonstration was followed by a one-act play "Smokescreen," presented by speech students of Miss Patricia Howard. In the cast were Sonya Pickus, David Mitchell, and James Tully.

The prologue was given by Charlene Kamen. Miss Lee Osmond was the stage manager. Bert Metz, Kenneth Mazuca, and Frank Menning prepared the sets; Joan Burton did the makeup; and Diane Domek had charge of sound effects.

Presumably because of insufficient publicity and the deterrent cold weather, the attendance was not large.

establish this undertaking. Prof. Wetmore said a good planning board consisted of from 7 to 12 members. "To finance such a project, aid can be received from the State Housing Aid Grant. About one-half of the cost of this project could be financed in this way. It would take approximately 4 to 6 months to set this up."

Sidewalks

"The City of Highland Park started a sidewalk repair about two years ago. They started with Village employees doing the work, but now have given up that procedure and let contractors.

"The city can contact property owners, or publish the intent of the village and let the people contact the village. Highland Park works on a waiting list and the work is scheduled accordingly.

"The Village can force the issue and pass an ordinance giving the property owners a 30 day notice to fix same or the village will, if so desired.

"The Village can pay one-half of the cost of repairing the sidewalks. The Village being the judge that the work is badly in need of repair, and not being fixed just to beautify. "This way the money would be earmarked and set aside for this purpose, and in a due course of years the walks would be in good shape.

"Vouchers could be issued and absorbed by the contractors at approximately 5 payments. This method would tend to inflate the cost of the repairs, and create excessive paper trouble.

"Or a special assessment act, which would mean a tax levied against the abutting property owners. This system is a long and drawn out procedure, but will work.

"It was the general understanding that working with the property owners, with a mutual agreement would be the most satisfactory, if the Village could set aside, or have available, sufficient funds.

"The League brought up several cases which were tried in courts. "As to liability of sidewalk mishaps, in most cases of recent occurrence Villages were liable. Some Villages or most have taken out sidewalk insurance which runs approximately $14.00 per running mile for 5,000 to 10,000 but these speakers thought that the rate should be $50,000 to $100,000 for liability.

"It is the hope of the present committee, that we might adopt one of these plans next year and start repairing our sidewalks. We would like to suggest that we hire two or three men to start this project going. I have spoken to Hans Johnson and he said he would be willing to help with the reconstruction of our sidewalks. In my opinion we couldn't get a better qualified man to help with this project."

Buy Tractor Back Hoe
In other business the Board awarded the contract for purchase of a 10-foot tractor back hoe to Reed-Randle Tractors, Inc., Waukegan, on that firm's low bid of $1,803.21. Olson Implement Co. bid $1,990. Pedersen Brothers entered a bid of $2,050 on a 12-foot hoe, but the street committee thought a 10-foot size was sufficient.

A committee composed of Trustees Bernard N. Osmond, Ernest H. Glenn and Edmund F. Vos will study the village insurance needs with a plan of purchasing the insurance at the greatest advantage during the coming year.

The police report for December showed: Issuance of 144 parking and meter tickets on which 121 fines were paid; moving vehicle tickets, 8, of which three were paid; 16 accidents; three instances of larceny; five traffic violations; and one stolen car recovered.

Emil R. Ehnert, street superintendent, reported that the village parking lot on Broadway had been covered with gravel to a 4-inch depth and rolled, and two culverts installed. Ehnert and his men worked all New Year's night removing a 6-inch snowfall from the streets.

Two-hour parking signs were placed at the parking lot located behind Bud Holtz' tavern. The new garage is far enough along that some of the equipment has been placed in it.

NOTHING ELSE NEAR THE PRICE HAS WHAT'S IN THIS PACKAGE!

The Delray 4-Door Sedan. Chevy's the only car in its field with Body by Fisher and Safety Plate Glass all around.

It's one of Chevrolet's dollar-stretching Delrays!

The handsome Delrays are the lowest priced of all the low-priced Chevrolets. And they're full-size Chevrolets—wider, lower and nine lively inches longer. In size, in style, in fine details and construction, no other car priced so low gives you so much!

When you're thinking about buying a car because of its extra-low price, there are two things it pays to watch for. First, be sure you get full measure when it comes to size. Don't settle for a cut-down bargain model. Second, be sure you get all the equipment and conveniences that you'd normally expect to be standard. Look for such everyday things as an instrument panel switch for the dome light, a booster for vacuum windshield wipers and crank-operated vent windows.

Chevrolet's Delray models are the lowest priced in the line. But they're full-size Chevrolets—wonderfully lower and wider, with the same increased length as other models. They're all Chevrolet, with bold new sculptured styling and beautiful Body by Fisher. And they're equipped to do you proud. Nothing else near the price has what's in this package. See it soon at your Chevrolet dealer's!

fronted with high-moisture content corn suitable mainly for feeding, so hogs were kept on the range. This presented the market with an abundance of heavier weights, reported during the past month, as young porkers were held back. Also, farmers waited for year-end before marketing, reflecting either gross-earnings consciousness in connection with 1957 taxes, or to obtain money to pay their taxes before the April 15 deadline.

This abundance of fresh pork in turn confronts beef competitively, halting live cattle prices in the neighborhood of $31 peaks, and a retail downturn is felt.

Poultry, meanwhile, is relatively unchanged with exception of lower egg prices reported off 5c per dozen last week on large grade A whites and mixed colors, and continuing lower this week. Butter, incidentally, also is lower.

The produce picture is well known, and this week sees more of the same—scarcity, higher prices and more limited selection.

Except for higher coffee prices in more stores, and increased cost of frozen concentrates, groceries are generally steady.

For the week ending Jan. 11, the foregoing spells the following food values for bargain conscious consumers:

Meats—Pork loin and rib-end roasts, center and end cut chops; beef blade cut chuck roasts, rump roasts, sirloin steaks.

January produce—Fruits: Apples, avocados, bananas, grapefruit, Emperor grapes. Vegetables: Brussels sprouts, cabbage, carrots, celery cabbage, endive, escarole, parsnips, potatoes, tomatoes.

Dairy—Large eggs, butter.

U. of I. Food Report

CHICAGO—Influence of weather and taxes is pronounced in terms of this week's metropolitan area food value survey by the University of Illinois consumer service.

Major meats halted a four-week consecutive retail price climb because of taxes mostly and to a lesser degree weather, and fresh produce continued at higher prices, scarcer volume and decreased selectivity because of prolonged wet, cold southern growing region weather.

Live Hog Arrivals—Highest in a year—flooded markets last week, driving hog prices down. This set up fresh pork loins and chops as the major market change and meat value. The competitive effect also helped halt advancing beef prices. Selected beef items dropped from one to three cents per pound, setting up several value selections.

Two factors influenced the hog situation. Farmers have been con-bert Prange Christmas Day. Evening and afternoon callers were Mr. and Mrs. John Glutch of Neilsville, Wis. and Mr. and Mrs. Blainey and Mr. C. Brown of Fox Lake.

Dee Weaver of Winthrop Harbor is spending a few days with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Prange.

Mrs. Addie Lucas of Wadsworth is visiting at the Charles Lucas home.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nelson and daughter of Round Lake spent Christmas Eve at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lucas.

Mr. Oscar Petry returned to his home in Jefferson City, Mo., Monday after spending a week with his daughter, Mrs. Harold Myers.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Baumgard of Union Grove spent Sunday afternoon at the Oscar Neahous home.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bederski of Wadsworth were callers at the Charles Lucas home Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Tangie Slaith and daughter of Elgin spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Myers.

Mrs. Mary Grogan and family of Highland Lake spent Sunday at the Harold Myers home.

Electronic Equipment To Speed Up Driver License Processing

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 28—Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter said that progress in the installation of electronic data processing equipment in the Drivers License Division of his office will coincide with the effective date of new provisions of the Drivers License Law to make possible the matching of the expiration date of an old license with the issuance date of the new one.

On January 1, this will result in the discontinuance of a system in effect since 1948 which caused applicants to lose from a few days to as much as a month on the valid period of a license, Mr. Carpenter said.

The expiration date of the old license, listed on the application for a new one, is punched into a card, and when that card is sent through one of the processing machines, the machine automatically selects an expiration date three years in advance for the new license, Secretary Carpenter said.

To have attempted such an operation manually would have been tremendously expensive, and the loss of a short period of time on the valid period was permissible under the law, he said.

Another advantage to the new system is that it eliminates the holding of two valid licenses at any time, Mr. Carpenter said. Although the driver may receive his new license 10 days or two weeks before the old one expires, the new license does not become effective until the issuance date shown on it, which is the same as the expiration date of the old one, he explained.

Installation of the electronic data processing equipment was begun in April, 1957. It is the type of installation which cannot be done all at once, but must progress from step to step, with each step making possible additional uses of the equipment, Secretary Carpenter said.

Aliens Must Report Their Address in Jan., Forms Available at P.O.

Mr. Robert H. Robinson of the United States Immigration and Naturalization Service stated that the period within which aliens must report their address is almost at hand.

The month of January has been set for the address reporting period. All aliens in the United States, with few exceptions, must report their address to the Government during this period.

Mr. Robinson said that forms with which to make the report will be available at all post offices and offices of the Immigration and Naturalization Service during the month of January.

Mr. Robinson urges all aliens to comply with the reporting requirements, as willful failure to do so may lead to serious consequences.

Mrs. E. C. Pitman was runnerup with John Alden Brown, Jr., for third place, at the West Palm Beach Bridge League recently, at the Hotel George Washington. This was the largest individual event ever held there with 72 players participating.

New Forms for Application For Certificate of Title

Springfield, Ill.—Beginning January 1, all applications for certificate of title for a motor vehicle must be submitted on a new form, which requires information not required by the old form, Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter said today.

Because of certain provisions of the new "Illinois Motor Vehicle Law," which became effective on that day, January 1, it will be necessary to return applications submitted on the old form, which does not contain all of the information required by the new law, Mr. Carpenter said.

Additional information required to be shown on the face of the certificate of title include the FULL name, without the use of initials or abbreviations, of the owner; the date of purchase; whether purchased new or used; and, when purchased from an authorized dealer, the signature of the dealer, Mr. Carpenter said.

Supplies of the new forms have been widely distributed throughout the state. Secretary Carpenter urged any auto dealers or other agencies which still have the old ones to contact representatives of his office immediately.

January 15 Deadline For Estimated Tax

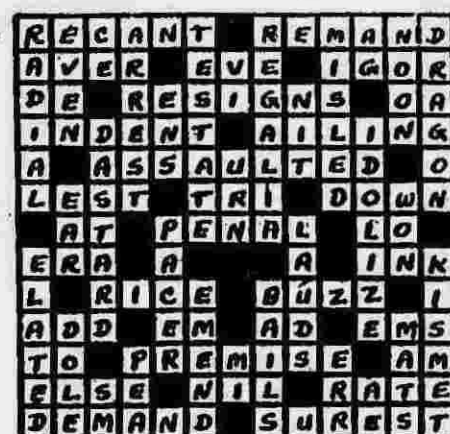

H. Alan Long, Chicago's District Director of Internal Revenue reminded taxpayers of the northern district of Illinois that Wednesday, January 15, is the deadline for paying the fourth and last installment on estimated Federal income tax returns for the year 1957; he stated that those taxpayers who filed an estimated return and have a payment due on January 15th should have received a notice by mail.

If you have previously filed an estimated return and events occurring in the last quarter of 1957 show that your income was substantially more or less than your original estimate, you should file an amended declaration on Jan. 15.

This declaration should be marked "amended" and should be filed with the same District Director of Internal Revenue who received your original declaration. A blank form for use as an amended declaration is printed on the back of the notice of payment due which you received.

A declaration of estimated tax for the year 1957 should be filed by January 15, 1958 on Form 1040ES by those taxpayers who first became liable for filing an estimate during the fourth quarter of 1957.

Mr. Long advised taxpayers who have any questions concerning their 1957 estimated tax or any other income tax matters to telephone or visit any of the local offices of the Internal Revenue Service.

ECONOMY TV TOPICS

(By Harold "Pete" Peterson)

KITCHEN TV

We have noted at ECONOMY TV on Rtn. 173, 1 1/2 miles west of Antioch that more and more people are buying second TV sets in the kitchen. We have actually seen them on kitchen counters near the sink.

Having TV in the kitchen is all right if the same precaution is taken as with other electrical appliances. Not long ago in a major city a child manipulated a toaster with one hand and turned on a water faucet with the other at the same time. What was a minor defect in the toaster became a major one with the water pipe ground. It short circuited and killed the child outright. This could happen with television, too.

When you phone ANTIOCH 1454 for electronic service, we'll tip you off about any of these hazards as we notice them. You'll like our services. Ask your neighbor about us.

The Antioch News and Lakes Theatre invite Mrs. Harry Miskanis, 328 Cedarwood Dr., Antioch, Ill., and one to attend Friday, Saturday, or Sunday's showing of "Beachhead" at the Lakes Theatre.

William E. Kelly, 66, Formerly of Antioch, Buried Here on Jan. 4

William Ernest Kelly, 66, a resident of Sister Lakes, Mich., died at Watervliet hospital, Watervliet, Mich., at 4:30 p. m. Wednesday, Jan. 1.

Mr. Kelly was born June 22, 1891 on the Isle of Man, off the coast of England and came with his parents to America to settle in Antioch, where they lived until moving to Chicago in 1907. He was an associate registrar at the Illinois Institute of Technology in Chicago until his retirement a year and a half ago, when he moved to Sister Lakes.

He was a member of Lake Shore Masonic Lodge 739 A. F. & A. M., Chicago.

Mr. Kelly's father, William, and his mother, Rebecca preceded him in death. He is survived by his widow, Rose Marie Kelly, and one brother, Robert Sinclair.

Funeral services were held Saturday, Jan. 4, at Strang's Funeral

Home with Rev. Edmund Hood of St. Ignatius church officiating. Interment was in Hillside cemetery.
